Hundred Years Old.

Elias Wilson, the oldest white resident of Woodford county, was one hundred years old yesterday. His birthday anniversary was quietly celebrated at his home near Versailles, where Mr. Wilson lives with his three sons. Mr. Wilson, notwithstanding his extreme age, has an excellent mind and a clear memory and talks intelligently on questions of the day. He is strong and active enough physically to walk about his house and yard every day. Mr. Wilson is a loyal Democrat and is looking forward to voting for Wilson and Marshall in November.

Home Grown Melons.

RELIGIOUS.

—The Mission Council of the Christian church desires to remind those who have made pledges for missions that the mission year ends Sunday, Sept. 22.

—The annual session of the Elkhorn Association composed of more than thirty Baptist churches in Fayette, Bourbon, Woodford and Jessamine counties, is in session at the First Baptist church in Lexington. The meetings have been attended by about 1,000 persons.

Colored Lodge Makes Contribution.

With the view of aiding in the establishment of a department for colored people at the W. W. Massie Memorial Hospital, which will be opened for occupancy in the next four months, the United Brothers of Friendship, a local colored fraternal organization, Wednesday night pledged a subscription of $100 to the movement.

The action of this lodge is the first following a proposal of the colored lodges of the city to raise a sum of $1,000 for the purpose of aiding the hospital trustees in building the colored ward which was deferred until a later date when the contract for the remodeling of the G. G. White property in White Addition was let, owing to a lack of funds.

There has been considerable activity on the part of the colored people of the city looking toward the raising of funds for this purpose, which is highly commendable to those who are foremost in the movement.

Farmers Too Busy.

The fall term of the Montgomery Circuit Court, which was to have been held at Mt. Sterling this week, was called and adjourned by Judge A. W. Young until September 23. This action was taken because the farmers are so busy housing tobacco that they cannot spare the time to attend court.
